

Atira Women's Resource Society's Enterprising Women Making Art Program(EWMA)

Call Out to Core Artisans

EWMA is a development initiative of Atira. It focuses on supporting women in Vancouver's Downtown Eastside to work together to develop an alternative form of business or employment that is grounded in their needs and realities.

Our studio is a free space for all women artists and artisans in the downtown eastside, who want to learn new skills to be able to make and sell marketable artwork.

We are now accepting Core Artisan applications! The deadline for the application will be October 14th at 5pm. Core artisan designations are given for a period of one year, during which EWMA will provide support to the artists to gain skills and tools they need to produce and market their work.

Core Artisan applications can be found online or picked up at both EWMA studio and store locations. If you have any questions or need support filling out your application please contact us.
