

Atira Women's Resource Society's Enterprising Women Making Art Program Seeking Volunteers Focus On Change

Purpose: To fill opportunities to Volunteer at the Studio

Deadline Ongoing

Enterprising Women Making Art (EWMA) is a program of Atira Women's Resource Society. EWMA is a self-employment initiative for women impacted by violence who face significant barriers to traditional employment and who seek, income generating opportunities free from exploitation, abuse or other vulnerabilities. We believe that working with women and celebrating the talents of its participants contributes to our community and supports their personal and economic growth as artisans. EWMA is currently looking for Artist who is active within the art community and can assist or teach women who are interested in learning about all aspects art.

If you are interested in:

- ☐ Instruction a special workshops (Artistic, Health & Wellness, Business and Marketing)
 - ☐ One on One Mentoring of a EWMA Core Artist
 - ☐ Sharing your knowledge of the Vancouver Art Scene with EWMA artists
 - ☐ Assisting with the up keep of the studio and machinery
- Currently EWMA is looking for volunteer in these different capacities.

Volunteers are needed immediately to start October 2011. Volunteering for 2 hrs. a week can help make a big difference!

For more information please contact:

Jessica Numminen
Program Coordinator - EWMA
54 E. Cordova Street
T. 604.685.8043
E. mailto:jessica_numminen@atira.bc.ca